

THE RED CROSS

POCAHONTAS CHAPTER AMERICAN R. C.

New Members, Marlinton—Mesdames George Waugh, Omer Michael, James Baxter, Wilbur Clark, Lanty Hogsett and Miss Mabel Moore. Messrs. Handley McFerrin, Jim Biggs and Clarence May.

Renewals, Mrs. A. C. McCoy, Frank King and Jake Hill.

Greenbank—J. O. Beard, Monroe Beard, Dr. L. L. Little.

Donation, Marlinton—Mrs. R. C. May, $1.00.

Mrs. George Sharp has been appointed chairman of the Junior Red Cross of Pocahontas county, which is a branch of the Pocahontas Chapter and Elliott Smith, principal Marlinton Graded school, treasurer. This committee hopes to have an organization in every school in the county. Schools wishing to organize will correspond with Mrs. Sharp, who is well informed along her line of work and we are sure she will get results from this Junior organization.

The Graded School of Marlinton organized a Junior Red Cross auxiliary February 6th, with the following officers: Chairman, Miss Helen Irvine; secretary, Mrs. Faith Baxter; treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Yeager. The children have entered into the work with the enthusiasm of youth and are going right along with it.

Mayor J. W. Milligan has responded to the request made last week for shipping boxes, by making one. Will not others do likewise. We must have boxes in which to ship our hospital to France—strong tongued and grooved boxes 3X2X2.

A nice lot of knitted goods has been received this week, which will be reported later. Will the secretary of the auxiliaries send me the names of women who did this work—Cass and Greenbank? and hereafter just send me the names with the invoice and the knitting committee will give them to me. Please send all communications for publication to the superintendent of publicity of the Chapter, not only that the work may not be reported twice but also that we may not overrun the space given us by the papers of the county.

Mrs. W. J. Yeager, Supt. Publicity, Pocahontas Chapter.

JUNIOR RED CROSS—WHAT IT IS.

An organization of the school youth of the county for the purpose of promoting patriotism and "doing their bit" toward aiding our nation and our allies in the war.

HOW TO DO IT

Organize by selecting from the faculty a chairman and a treasurer. Enroll pupils by raising a fee of 25 cents per capita. Fill out an enrollment blank and mail it to the county chairman, Mrs. George Sharp.

WHEN TO DO IT

Preferably between Lincoln's birthday and Washington's birthday—February 12 to 22. This period has been designated by the National Red Cross as enrollment time and posters concerning this will be sent out to aid organizers.

THE WORK

Teach patriotism. Knitting for soldiers and sailors. Making refugee garments for destitute women and children of the war-stricken nations, making trench candles for the boys at the front. In fact anything that will aid materially or morally the successful prosecution of the war.

Get in the game! Boost the patriotism of your community! Help defeat Prussianism!

Mrs. Geo. Sharp, Chairman. E. C. Smith, Treasurer.

The Marlinton Graded School has the distinction of being the first school in the county to organize a Junior Red Cross, which is to be known as the "Marlinton Graded School Junior Red Cross Auxiliary." An enrollment fee of twenty-five cents is charged each pupil who wishes to become a member. Great interest is being manifested by the pupils and the enrollment has already passed the hundred mark.

Each grade will have its individual work to do which will be done under the supervision of the teacher in charge of the grade. It is not the plan of the Marlinton Graded teachers to take the time from the regular school hours to do this work, but most likely one period a week, beginning at 3:45 and extending as far beyond four o'clock as desired, will be devoted to the work. In this manner little or no regular school work will suffer to any extent from neglect which the Junior Red Cross might cause if too much time were given to it.

Helen M. Irvine, Chairman.

TO THE TEACHERS.

I wish to lend my most hearty indorsement to the Junior Red Cross movement, and urge all teachers of Pocahontas county to give your loyal cooperation to this organization.

B. B. Williams, Co. Supt.

WHEATLESS BREAD DEMONSTRATION

Miss Lowe, a member of the Agricultural Extension Staff of the West Virginia University, gave a wheatless bread demonstration in the domestic science room of the Hillsboro H. S. Saturday February 9. The women of the community already realize the need of help along this line and are eager to put into practice what they observed. The weather was quite unfavorable for those living a distance from town, preventing many from being present.

Miss Lowe explained what the French women are doing that the men may be in the war, the difficulties of their labor, and the want of food, and in spite of all, the wonderful spirit they are manifesting. If we could all realize this, we would gladly live up to the food regulations, and even do more than that we might liberate more food to sooner end the war, and to save some of the blood of our country.

Miss Lowe emphasized the liberation of animal fat, sugar, and wheat flour. She gave the general rule that whenever the recipe called for sugar molasses or syrup can be substituted, substituting equal measure for equal measure of sugar, and all breads one can substitute from 1-4 to 1-2 corn meal for wheat flour. Special emphasis was laid on careful measurements, and to avoid all waste by removing every bit of the material from the vessel. She was pleased to see the high school so well equipped for domestic science, and urged that be used as a place of studying together the food problems of this community.

The following were present at the demonstration and all have signed the food conservation cards: Mrs. Kidd, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Sam Sheets, Mack Callison, Madge Welford, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. J. K. Marshall, Mrs. E. H. McLaughlin, Addie Cokely, Mrs. T. A. Sydenstricker, Dice Smith, Mrs. T. P. McNeel, Mrs. H. M. Harr, Mrs. J. W. Gum, Mrs. H. W. McNeel, Josephine McNulty, Mrs. Eye, Mrs. Shumate, Mrs. Albert Stillwell, Mrs. George Edgar, Mrs. Carl Beard, Mrs. Carlyle.

Wheeling.—Fifty street cars and the large barn of the Wheeling Traction Co., located on Wheeling Island, were destroyed by fire here. The damage is estimated at $200,000. A heavy wind fanned the flames, which spread rapidly. The fire started when a carman, who was lighting a car heater with oil-soaked waste, dropped the burning mass to the floor.

Clarksburg.—Good work on the part of the employees and good luck, prevented a disastrous fire at the Hope Natural Gas Co.'s gasoline loading plant at Jackson Mills. A car load of gasoline in the middle of a string of 15 other cars loaded with gasoline caught fire in some unknown manner, but was soon extinguished. The loss is small, an official of the company said.

Huntington.—Mrs. Gertrude Wilson, aged 48 years, of 1928 Third avenue, died as the result of injuries received when struck by a Third avenue street car at the corner of Twentieth street and Third avenue. Her death occurred at the Huntington General Hospital, where she was taken immediately after the accident. She suffered a fractured skull and concussion of the brain.

Fairmont.—The directors of the Monongahela Valley Traction Co. held a meeting here, at which time the three million dollar issue of one year notes to be placed in West Virginia and Baltimore as of February 1, 1918, was approved. The money will be spent for vast improvements to be made in West Virginia on the lines of the M. V. T. Co., including a great deal of construction work.

Charleston.—Fire starting from a mysterious source in the new ware house of the Swift Packing Co. at Hinton, destroyed that unfinished structure, which was two stories high and made its way, aided by a brisk wind, to the New River Hardware Co.'s establishment, which is a total loss. The damage was estimated at $150,000, the hardware company having a stock valued at $125,000, according to reports.

Charleston.—The largest remittance received this year for tax on transfer of stock was received by State Tax Commissioner Walter S. Hallahan when Austin B. Fletcher, co-executor and trustee of the estate of Isaac D. Fletcher of New York, remitted $14,312.55 for tax on the transfer of 335 shares of E. W. Bliss Co. and 1,000 shares of the Alaska Juneau Gold Mining Co., both corporations of West Virginia. Total market value of the shares is $157,125.

to the position of secretary. Topping resigned voluntarily for the purpose of entering business.

Charleston.—The keeper of a pool room who permits a boy under 18 years old to patronize or loaf in his place of business is guilty of contributory delinquency, as defined by Section 33, Chapter 44-a, of the code, in the opinion of Attorney General E. T. England, and may be prosecuted under that law.

Charleston.—The movement to bring down the high price of food in this section of West Virginia started by the Kanawha Valley Central Labor Union gained full sway with the request issued by that body that a wage worker be named as a member of each local food board and that a weekly comparative statement be issued.

Charleston.—Gov. Cornwell declined to grant the extradition of Sam Berger on a requisition issued by the governor of Virginia until further proof is offered by the Virginia authorities in identifying the negro held here as the same Berger wanted in Botetourt county on an indictment charging him with the murder of Romney Vasser.

Charleston.—The county court in meeting instructed the county engineer to construct a temporary foot bridge over Cabin creek at Dry Branch to replace the road bridge washed out at that point by the recent rise and ice gorge in Cabin creek. The demolished structure will be replaced later with a substantial county bridge.

Martinsburg.—The appointment of Charles N. Campbell, of Charles Town, as assistant United States attorney for the Northern District was announced recently. The many cases of espionage and the added work brought on by the war are responsible for the designation of the extra officer. He has begun his work, making this city his headquarters.

Clarksburg.—Because John Raikes, a young man of Industrial, refused to marry Miss Edna Nutter, to whom he had been paying attention, her brother, Lee Nutter, went hunting for him, it is alleged, and shot him six times with a small caliber revolver. Raikes is in a hospital, where it was stated that he would likely recover. Nutter surrendered and was held to the grand jury.

Clarksburg.—Telegrams sent here by W. G. McAdoo, director general of railroads, and by A. W. Thompson, vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, lifted railroad embargoes here on feed for live stock. Huntington.—That 30,000 men are expected to be at work soon in the construction of the government explosives plant at Crawford City, near Charleston, is the statement of A. S. Youngman, who is in the city seeking skilled labor for the building of the big factories. Mr. Youngman says that already eight barracks have been completed, and ten cottages for the superintendents and foremen.

Huntington.—More than 150 rural schools in West Virginia have been closed because it has been impossible to find teachers to take the place of those who have answered the call to military service and those who have resigned as teachers to accept employment in other industries where better pay is secured. It was announced by M. P. Shawkey, state superintendent of schools.

Fairmont.—Entering the office of Daniel R. Lawson, Miss Velva Ferrel, aged 22 years, fired three times at him, two of the bullets landing in his back as he was endeavoring to make a hasty retreat. After firing at him, Miss Ferrel went into the hallway and fired at herself. The bullet entered her right side, slanting downward, and the wound inflicted is not considered serious. Both were taken to a hospital, where they were cared for.

Huntington.—S. U. G. Rhodes, of Mingo county; Davie Hill, of Mason county; Rath Duff, of Jackson county, and Dr. H. F. Asbury, of Putnam county, members of the West Virginia Legislature, who were sent to the state penitentiary in 1913 upon conviction of accepting bribes during the United States senatorial contest in the legislature in 1913, have brought suits separately against Bonner H. AT HILLSBORO HIGH SCHOOL FEBRUARY 22ND

THE MERRILEES LADIES' QUARTET.

The insistent demand of Lyceum courses for ladies' vocal quartets is one of the most difficult calls to fill. In fact, there are comparatively few ladies' vocal quartets in the Lyceum and Chautauqua world today. That the Merrilees Ladies' Quartet, therefore, is to be booked for the coming season by the Redpath Bureau will indeed be welcome news.

And, in addition to solos, duets and ensemble vocal music, one of the company is a reader. She will appear twice in readings during each evening's program.

Another feature of each program will be the appearance of the quartet in costume of the colonial times while rendering some of the selections which were favorites in days long gone by.

Miss Gladys Ufford, soprano, studied music in the Iowa State College. She also was soloist in the College Glee Club. She was a student of William Clare Hall of Chicago for three years.

Miss Letta White, soprano and reader, has specialized under Miss Minnie Mae Lewis of the Chicago Musical College in dramatic art and in voice training under Carl E. Craven, Chicago, for the past two years.

Miss Bessie White, contralto, received dramatic training in the Chicago Musical College and also studied voice under Carl E. Craven.

Miss Ruth Edwards, contralto and the manager of the Merrilees Quartet, is a graduate of Fairmount College, Wichita, Kan., with the degree of A. B., and was one of the soloists of the Girls' Glee Club of that college. For the past two years she has been a pupil of William Clare Hall of Chicago.
